

A Secure Global Fortress Construction

for raising cybersecurity standards across an entire global organization

Security Consultation

Challenge

Kajima Corporation is a global construction and real estate development company based in Japan with subsidiaries around the world. To stay ahead of the curve in an everchanging world, Kajima is promoting digital transformation (DX) with IT for better business operation.

And these continue to grow globally, with varying business activities and scales depending on the country. Each subsidiary handled IT implementation individually, leading to differences in IT security measures.

As the threat of information security increased, they recognized the need to attain a uniform level of security across the entire group. NEC was roped in to help analyze the situation and identify security gaps.

Solution

For Kajima Corporation, NEC utilized its knowhow to help the company visualize the current state of its security measures, and organized a comprehensive picture of the security framework that they aim to achieve as a company.

To drive the concrete implementation of these measures, NEC worked with Kajima's representatives from 14 local subsidiaries in eight Asian countries to determine the promotion structure, service level, and schedule moving forward. NEC implemented its Advanced Response Centre (ARC) to provide Kajima Corporation with year-round, uninterrupted monitoring services for security threats.

Benefits

- Expertise-based discovery: NEC's experience as a global manufacturer and their familiarity with providing practical solutions based on their accumulated knowhow was leveraged to clearly defined the security level standards required by the entire group.
- Non-stop monitoring with minimized resources wastage: Centralized monitoring implemented by NEC ensures 24/7 visibility of threats and the status of security measures.
- Building sustainable IT environments: Raising the overall security level established a socially healthy and reliable IT environment that is trusted by customers and employees in all global regions.

Quote

“It was rare to find a company like NEC that could provide solid support not only for solution deployment, but also for actual operations. Looking forward to the next project with NEC in the future.”
